It's Rewind Time

People came to REWIND, Recycle Electronic Waste into New Devices, on Saturday, June 13. The event was set up in front of First Interstate Bank, one of the event's sponsors, in Red Lodge.

"It's been a good crowd," said volunteer board member Bill Foisy.

Dozens more took advantage of the early drop off. "We had many elderly that called us for help in recycling their equipment," said Foisy.

Electronic waste is anything that plugs in that is no longer used such as old televisions, computers, monitors, telephones, radios, cell phones, iPods, printers, etc. Such equipment may contain mercury, lead, cadmium and PCBs that require proper disposal or recycling.

The equipment also often contains valuable metals and components that can be recycled.
